

Attracted To Hate by Campbell 12

It will bind them,
It will blind them,
It grinds at them,
As it plays them for a fool.

It will restrict them,
It will control them,
They can't stop it,
Without the strength to overrule.

They can't clean the slate,
They only want to berate,
It just makes them irate,
Because they're attracted to hate,
Because they're attracted to hate.

They are consumed by rage,
They can't turn the page.
They can't worry about their fate,
Because they're attracted to hate,
Because they're attracted to hate.

Untold compromise,
Endless sacrifice,
For their treasured hate,
They pay a heavy price.

They can't pursue their art,
They've let darkness in their heart.
Their plans have been denied,
From dark yearnings never satisfied.

They can't clean the slate,
They only want to berate,
It just makes them irate,
Because they're attracted to hate,
Because they're attracted to hate.

They are consumed by rage,
They can't turn the page.
They can't worry about their fate,
Because they're attracted to hate,
Because they're attracted to hate.

It preys on the weak,
And it knows no bounds,
It won't release its grip,
For victims of hate become spellbound.

They can't clean the slate,
They only want to berate,
It just makes them irate,
Because they're attracted to hate,
Because they're attracted to hate.

They are consumed by rage,
They can't turn the page.
They can't worry about their fate,
Because they're attracted to hate,
Because they're attracted,
Because they're attracted,
Because they're attracted to hate.
