

Compassion by Campbell 12

The world today,
Is full of pain,
Will it always remain the same?

The world today,
Is full of hate,
Is it something we can amputate?

The world today,
Is full of greed,
Something that we really never need.

Don't you have any compassion,
And a sense to take righteous action?
Don't you have any feelings,
For all those that need healing?
Don't you have any empathy,
For all those that are not free?
Not free.

The world today,
Is suffering,
How do we keep from losing everything?

The world today,
Is so dark,
How do we keep from falling apart.

The world today,
Is full of spite,
How do we find healing light?

Don't you have any compassion.
And a sense to take righteous action?
Don't you have any feelings,
For all those that need healing?
Don't you have any empathy,
For all those that are not free?

Not free.

Do we really know,
Do we really know,
What we must have is compassion.
(Compassion)
(Compassion)
Compassion.
(Compassion)
(Compassion)

The world today,
Needs our hope,
With this we can always cope.

The world today,
Needs our faith,
If we're going to make real change.

The world today,
Needs our love,
So that we can rise above.

This world needs compassion,
And a sense to take righteous action.
This world needs feelings,
For all those that need healing.
This world needs empathy,
So that we are always,
Always,
Free.

Always,
Always,
Free.

Always,
Always,
Free.

Always,
Always,
Free.

Copyright © 2024 by Campbell 12