

Don't Worry by Campbell 12

Don't you worry,
About the way,
The way that I look.

Don't you worry,
About the way,
The way that I walk.

Don't you worry,
About the way,
The way that I talk.

Don't you worry,
About the things,
The things that I do.

Can't you see,
That it's just me?
And just learn,
To let it be.

Let me unveil,
All my glory.
Let me write,
My beautiful story.

Can't you see,
That it's just me?
And just learn,
To let it be.

Let me unveil,
All my glory.
Let me write,
My beautiful story.

You need to worry,
About the way,

It's not fair,
For you to criticize.

You need to worry,
About the way,
It's not right,
For you to spread the lies.

You need to worry,
About the way,
I won't,
Let them condone.

You need to worry,
About the things,
And all the hate,
That you have grown.

Can't you see,
That it's just me?
And just learn,
To let it be.

Let me unveil,
All my glory.
Let me write,
My beautiful story.

Can't you see,
That it's just me?
And just learn,
To let it be.

Let me unveil,
All my glory.
Let me write,
My beautiful story.

Live your life and don't worry,
Accept me,

For who I am.

Live your life and don't worry,
Take me,
As I am.

Live your life and don't worry,
I don't need,
Their complacency.

Live your life and don't worry,
I don't need,
Their conspiracy.

Can't you see,
That it's just me?
And just learn,
To let it be.

Let me unveil,
All my glory.
Let me write,
My beautiful story.

Can't you see,
That it's just me?
And just learn,
To let it be.

Let me unveil,
All my glory.
Let me write,
My beautiful story.

Let me write,
My story.

My story.

Copyright © 2024 by Campbell 12